

Michael T. Kawachi

Michael Kawachi is an American lawyer who has lived and practiced in Japan for the past 25 years. He is currently Visiting Scholar, Columbia University Law School, and Executive Director of the International Mediation Training Program, as well as CEO of Charis Capital Management Ltd., a private investment company in Tokyo. He was previously Vice President and Associate General Counsel of Amazon.com in Japan and practiced law in the Tokyo offices of Skadden, Arps, Meagher, Slate and Flom and as a partner of Mayer, Brown & Platt (now Mayer Brown Rowe and Maw). He is a Founding Member of the Board of Councilors of the Outlook Foundation (Tokyo, Japan), a member of the Board of Trustees of International Christian University (Tokyo, Japan) and a member of the Board of Governors of the Japanese-American National Museum (Los Angeles, California). He is a member of the State Bar of California and the First Tokyo Bar Association. He is a graduate of UCLA, Columbia University School of Law, Duke University Fuqua School of Business and was a graduate research associate at Tokyo University, Faculty of Law, as a Rotary International Graduate Fellow. He is married to Yuria (nee Wagatsuma) and has 2 daughters, Ayla and Eliya.